TARNATION!!!! Who needs New Fangled Keys?????????

St. Philip's Church finished updating the fire alarm, security alarm, and entry systems for our campus in May. These updates significantly improve the safety of our campus.

21st CENTURY KEYLESS ENTRY! The entry doors from the parking lot are now fitted with electronic locks. We are currently in a transition period in which members with physical keys are required to return the physical key and get electronic access through their smart phone or a key fob. During this transition, we are not setting the security alarm as use of a physical key would trigger the alarm. When the transition period is over, we begin setting the alarm when the last person leaves the building. You will receive training on the new process.

WHY MAKE THIS CHANGE? There are several advantages to the new system. You can open the doors with a tap of your smartphone or keyless fob on the black panel on the door frame. No more wrestling the key in the lock with your arms loaded with items. When opened with phone or fob, the system will automatically turn off the alarm. No more trying to remember the security code. You don't have to race to the control panel if you enter through the main door instead of the door by the kitchen. The church has better control of who has access to the building. Every phone or fob is identified with a specific individual. Each entry to the building is logged with the time and the identity associated with the electronic device. The Rector and parish secretary have access to this detailed entry log. Rules can be set for specific devices as to what days and times the device can open the doors. The software can schedule opening and locking the doors for specific days and time periods, ie Sundays from 8:50am to 10:20am. If phone or fob is lost, the device's ability to open the locks can be deactivated. Rector and secretary can monitor the system, arm/disarm alarm, open/lock doors, and see entry log remotely.

HOLY SMOKE DETECTORS! Smoke and fire sensors have long been part of the fabric of the first floor of our campus. However, since its construction in 1964, the upstairs classrooms have not had fire detection devices. All rooms on the the second floor now have smoke detectors and a bright red alarm with a flashing light mounted in the ceiling. Thank you to the members who donated to our capital campaign. The safety of our youngest members is so important.

FALSE ALARMS, NO MORE! With our updated alarm system, we believe that flaws in our older system have been remedied. In the past, we have had to pay the Joplin Police Department for excessive false alarms which tie up police resources in responding to us. This wastes money and could cause unneeded risk for others who need a quick police response, but are denied it because police are responding to a false alarm at our campus.

GET YOUR KEYLESS ENTRY! If you are a member of altar guild, or some other group that requires entry to the building, schedule a time with Kim Siers to return your physical key and have your phone or fob activated. Everyone who has already gotten their new keyless entry has been pleased with it. Email: saintphilips706@gmail.com

FROM OUR ORGANIST - CALEB

The season of Pentecost, beginning May 28 brings a return to Ordinary Time. Ordinary time does not mean that the season is less important than other times of the year, rather, the term “Ordinary” comes from the Latin word “Ordo” or order. It quite literally means it is the numbered weeks of the church year that we do not spend celebrating a principal feast (Easter, Christmas, Epiphany, etc.) or in penitence (Advent or Lent). But what does this mean for music? The music we sing is selected based on scripture readings, and the scriptures fall mostly in chronological order. This means much of the music is selected out of the back half of the hymnal which does not have a specific season attached to it. Much of the music selected for this season consists of familiar hymns but also hymns that may be unfamiliar. Ordinary time is perfect for learning and becoming comfortable with the unfamiliar. There is never a Sunday during the next three months where (if you are a regular attendee) you will be unfamiliar with every hymn. Learning new music is hard, and exiting one’s comfort zone is even more difficult. I encourage you to sing out as loud as possible, no matter the familiarity of the hymn. Remember, you are singing praises to God, and he does not care how in tune you are! Singing these hymns helps you grow as a child in Christ, as once they are learned, you will be able to embrace the lyrics of the hymn and relate them to the scriptures assigned for the day. A particular hymn to showcase is the offertory hymn for Trinity Sunday (June 4, 2023). This hymn is No. 370, “I Bind unto my self today” with the tune, St. Patrick’s Breast Plate. The tune’s original Old Irish lyrics were attributed to St. Patrick, however, it is unlikely that he was the true writer. It is written in the style of a druidic incantation for protection on a journey. The prayer is part of the Liber Hymnorum, a collection of hymns found in two manuscripts kept in Dublin. The hymn references Ephesians 6:10-17 (“God’s shield to protect me ... from snares of devils”). The hymn tune changes in verse 6 when the singers petition Christ directly for this protection. This change is brief, as it returns to the original tune in verse 7 when we once again invoke the Trinity “whom all nature hath creation... Praise.” Another hymn is 528, “Lord, you give the great commission” to the tune Rowthorn. The hymn is selected for June 18th and quotes the Gospel reading for the day, Matthew 9:35-10:8(9-23). The quoted elements within the hymn are what Christ requests his disciples and you to do. “Heal the sick and preach the word.” This of course means going out into the world and spreading love and compassion. Our growth as congregational musicians is dependent upon a thorough understanding of the hymns in the hymnal 1982. The upcoming music articles will spotlight a hymn that might be familiar or one that isn’t. They are going to discuss the meaning behind the hymns which will hopefully shed light as to why they were selected. Please, do not hesitate to contact me if you have questions about the music, or how to grow as a congregational musician. I know learning new music is hard, especially if you’re already not conformable as a musician, so I am here to give you whatever support you need to help sing to Christ.

FROM DEACON CAROL

Mission and Outreach

A few years ago, the national Episcopal church put out a document called All Doors Open. It was a guide for helping churches to be more open and inclusive. One part of that document that stood out for me was a diagram of the levels of outreach. There are four: charity, service, advocacy, and justice. These four words have served as a guide I have used over the years with churches as they evaluate their outreach efforts.

As an example of this let's look at a topic such as hunger/food security. The first level – charity – would include things such as collecting food to donate to a food bank or making a cash donation to a soup kitchen. The next level would be service - that could include having a food pantry on site or delivering food to the homes of the elderly or disabled. The next level – advocacy – could include things such as teaching folks how to purchase and prepare nutritious foods or working with a school PTO to be sure lower income kids get Friday food bags. Justice could include such things as trying to address the causes of food insecurity – such as lack of job training programs or a lack of affordable housing.

As you can see – this is a continuum – a progression in commitment and engagement from one level to the next. It is easy to engage in acts of charity. It takes more effort to engage in service – where we encounter and develop relationships with the people we serve. Then with advocacy – we are making a commitment to work with and empower people over time. And finally, with justice we commit to the long game working with those in power to promote the common good by enacting systems change. Charity is important and necessary, and churches have a long history of engaging in charitable acts. Many churches also engage in service, advocacy, and justice as part of their mission and outreach efforts.

Churches usually have a mission statement – where they identify what their calling is as they engage with the world trying to spread God's love. The mission statement of St Philips is to “Worship God, Follow Christ, and Love Our Neighbor.” I see this as a progression – a continuum also. We begin by focusing on God – then we move to identifying how that translates into action by following Christ's call to us – and finally we take it out into the world as we engage our neighbors in acts of love.

Outreach can be defined as “providing assistance beyond current or usual limits, often to help and encourage disadvantaged members of the community.” So far, we have conducted one outreach discussion session to examine St Philips outreach to date. We have also begun to identify the God given assets that we can bring to the table as we discern our path forward. There will be a second outreach discussion session on Sunday May 29 after church and a third and final session on Wednesday June 7th at 7:00 pm. It is very important that many voices engage in this conversation. We need input from young and old, from life-long members and folks new to St Philip's. Please pray about this and come and be a part of the conversation.

DEYA VICTORIA YANDELL, Senior Class 2023

(Granddaughter of Vicky Cleveland)

When Deya was around 7 years old, she took dance classes, both tap and ballet. Then for a short time took baton classes. But it wasn't till Middle school that she tried out for archery and fell in love with it and has continued through this year. During the seven years of archery, she has qualified for Regionals, State (held in Branson) and for Nationals (three times), which is held in Louisville, KY. She qualified this year, but opted out to spend time with family and friends. She has donated her bow and arrows to the archery department. She has also been an acolyte at St. Philip's and was baptized at age 10 and has been in a couple of Christmas pageants as "Mary". She also received her driver's license this year.

On the last day of school, for the seniors, they received their cap and gowns. The seniors went back to their grade schools, where their journeys began, for Deya it was Jefferson Elementary, then on to North Middle School. One of her teachers saw her and wanted her to say some words of wisdom to the class. Deya's words "Don't listen to the expectations of others, just the expectations you have for yourself." WOW! She has always been true to herself and has let her natural beauty shine.

Deya received a silver medal--Magna Cum Laude--GPA 4.0-4.19 as well as several "cords" for other academic achievements. Red & white – skills USA; purple & white – National Technical Society; silver – high end of course; black – Franklin Technical Center; yellow – platinum – the best of working key

On Wednesday, May 24th, she will be flying out to Yellowstone Inn to work for six months. She has a friend that went last year, after she graduated for six months, and asked Deya if she would like to go this year.

I can say that her mother, Lynette Yandell, my daughter, and myself "Grammy" are extremely proud of Deya and she is truly independent and will do anything that she puts her mind to!

Lovingly, Vicky Cleveland "Grammy"

Lights:

- Light over playground was fixed by the city
- Security light on building above SE entrance is tied into exhaust fan so can't be run without fan constantly running. Spoke with electrician who will change the light and rewire for $625.00. Blake Webster moved to hire the electrician and that the fee be taken from line item 3123 Building Fund, Maria Dermott seconded. All in favor.
